

---

HAVE YOU SEEN? THE WIND TURBINES ARE UWelcome to the producers returning for the season 17 April 10

Contributed by Theresa Cole
Last Updated Friday, 07 May 2010

The fiddleheads have arrived! Evan will be out on the front sidewalk and Dale will be inside across from Steve o Reno's. Serendipity Gardens has returned with a lovely display of flowers and transplants for the garden. Owen, with Annapolis Seed will join us again with his heritage seeds, Rod will be in attendance with his garden kits and delicious salad greens. What a season for sap! Ripley Maple is back with fresh maple syrup, Four Seasons Farm, from Selma has returned with their beautiful herbs and garden greens. Maple Grove Farms, from Lunenburg County have returned with their lovely assortment of transplants and flowers. Pat Vinish, Wittenburg Nurseries and Horlings Family Farm have returned to our market with their beautiful flowers and garden transplants. All of our year round producers are bringing the freshest of greens for your salads and sandwiches, well, truth be told, some are purple, some are green! All are delicious!